THE AIR PROGRAM FOR DRUG & DUI COURTS

GRADUATED
ACCOUNTABILITY

“Since implementing the AIR program, our case managers find it far easier to keep in touch with their clients. Being able to better engage our clients means we can provide stronger support services, improve overall compliance, and help more clients experience successful outcomes.”

St. Charles Drug Court, MO (an NDCI Mentor Court)

Drug and DUI courts work closely with participants to support them through the rehabilitation process. For the courts to be effective, their case workers and supervision officers need tools that help them efficiently distribute critical resources.

Corrisoft's AIR program offers a spectrum of smartphone-based solutions to help Drug and DUI courts deliver graduated levels of accountability. Specifically, AIR provides multiple tools that all work on the same management platform, which affords agencies the ability to administer the appropriate level of accountability for every phase of a supervised term.

For low accountability/high risk clients, agencies can have their participants carry AIR's proprietary smartphone. The phone has use-control features to ensure the client always has a working mode of communication. On the other end of the spectrum, the AIR Check-In app is a remote check-in tool clients download to their own personal smartphone and is ideal for high accountability/low-risk participants.
